

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

Remember the auction to-morrow—a large lot of choice flowers to be sold.

The subscription to the popular loan in this city exceeds twenty thousand dollars. This is a very small sum for Terre Haute, considering the wealth and patriotism of our citizens. We know of no reason why it should not already exceed one hundred thousand.

The Morton Rangers are rapidly filling up, and we are glad to see that these enlisted are many of them men who have seen service. Among those enlisted yesterday, was one who fought with Malvern at Lexington. The Government furnishes horses and equipments for this company.

ATTENTION COMPANY A.—There will be a business meeting of this company at the Store Room formerly occupied by Jos. C. Yates on Thursday evening, Oct. 31, 1861, at 7 1/2 o'clock. Every member of this company, now living, is expected and requested to be promptly in attendance. By order of the PRESIDENT.

Colors for the 31st.—On Monday morning a delegation of citizens left this city for Henderson Ky., taking with them the colors of the 31st regiment. We have not learned the names of all the delegates, but among them were Mrs. Read, Mrs. Hough and Rev. Lyman Abbott. We hope to be furnished with a full report on their return.

THE HOLMAN TROUPE.—The juveniles of the city, and the old folks too, for that matter, are in ecstasies at the announcement of the return of the Holman Troupe to this city. All remember what crowded houses they had when here last winter, and the fact that they have been reaping laurels in all the cities east and north of here, is assurance enough that they are now no less worthy of patronage than formerly. Such precocity was certainly never witnessed in any other troupe that has visited our city. They have added two more stars to their performers, which will add greatly to their interest. We confidently expect to see the National Hall crowded to-morrow night.

LESLIE'S PICTORIAL HISTORY.—We have received No. 10 of this exquisite work, which is rapidly growing in popular favor. No. 10 brings the history of the war down to the siege of Lexington. The details of the history are very extensive and in the interest of the illustrations are highly gotten up, and add greatly to the beauty of the work.

The work is published in semi-monthly numbers, and is furnished at the low rate of twenty-five cents per number. Mr. M. W. O'Connell of the Catholic bookstore is the agent for the sale of the history in this city.

A SPECIMEN OF REBEL HUMANITY.—Some correspondence between Gen. Brown and Bragg has been published, in which the former orders the latter to remove his sick from his hospital as they are within range of the guns of Fort Trenchard. The latter replies that he would never fire on a hospital where ever it might be situated, and refuses to make the change. The New York Tribune thus explains the matter:

There are really no sick in that hospital, but Bragg has had a large quantity of powder stored in his wards and cellars, and that to protect it from fire he has the yellow flag over the building. Col. Brown, we are told, has been informed of this fact, and will be governed accordingly.

Contract of the Aggregate of Taxes for the Year 1860 and 1861 in Vigo County.

Township	1860	1861
Harrison Township	$40,123.75	$42,623.25
Henry Creek	4,499.46	4,499.46
Franklin	2,299.73	1,849.34
Franklin Creek	2,412.00	2,091.42
Permon	3,672.72	2,912.31
Riley	3,854.94	3,441.24
Lost Creek	1,960.39	3,962.04
Verona	1,960.39	2,492.46
Other Creek	3,551.92	4,670.00
Payette	4,374.00	4,795.20
Super Creek	4,340.96	5,160.90
Linton	2,398.57	2,796.25
Total	$74,342.27	$81,702.50

Debt amount taxes for 1861 $74,342.27
Deduct a decrease for 1861 $6,400.00
E. B. ALLEN, Auditor V. C.

Auction Sale.—On Thursday at 9 o'clock A. M. the stock of Groceries, Storeware, Flower, notions and goods of all kinds belonging to John Palmerly, will be sold at auction.

Sale at the Store, next door to A. Reiman, Washab Street, near the Canal.

Great bargains—come and buy. Oct. 28, 43d.

Card.

During my absence JOHN P. BAIRD, Esq., will attend to all my personal, insurance and professional business. Those having any business with me will consult with Mr. BAIRD.

CHARLES CRUFT.

Oct. 19, 410d.

Hart's Hats.—T. H. LOWMEYER—who is a practical hatter, and successor to Joseph C. Yates, corner of Fifth and Washab Street, has received his Fall style of hats and has now on hand and is manufacturing to order the handsome style of Fall and Winter Hats at prices ranging from two dollars upwards.

Having just received from New York the latest Paris fashions, she is prepared to furnish work of a character that cannot fail to please the most fastidious.

Oct. 19, 410d.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

DISPATCHES BY THE WESTERN UNION LINE.

Noon Dispatches.

Important from Washington.

Gen. Scott about to retire on account of Physical Infirmary.—His Unsettled Claims Against the Government.—Jeff. Davis' Maliciousness.—Freemont's Arrest.—Agassiz's Congressmen Again Meeting with Military Matters.—Rumored Betrayal of the Naval Expedition.—No Rebels at Fairfax C. H.—Federalists Fortifying on the Maryland Shore.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Gen. Scott will voluntarily retire from his rank and duties within the next ten days, solely on account of his physical infirmities. The recent act of Congress provided there should be no reduction in his pay, subsistence or allowances, in the event of his withdrawal.

It is well known Gen. Scott has had an unsettled account with the War Department since Mexican war. Secretary Cameron has recently given a careful examination of his claims, now thirty years old.

Jeff. Davis' maliciousness brought him in debt on account of his expenditures and receipts in Mexico, and so far as the Secretary's report could do, it discredited him as a financial agent of the Government.

Mr. Cameron has reported that Gen. Scott was not only entitled to the money he claimed of the Government, but that he saved it millions of dollars, which, by the laws of war he could have pocketed under the settled principles regulating the distribution of prizes and contributions money.

This opportunity of personal advantage Winfield Scott generously directed to the founding of a home for invalid soldiers. One of the monuments long after he is dead, will be the "Soldier's Home," near Washington.

Saturday last, the order of the Commander-in-Chief that Gen. Fremont should surrender his command to the officer next to him, Gen. Hunter, accompanied by a letter of instruction to Gen. Hunter, was sent out by the President to Gen. Curtis, in command at St. Louis.

Senators Chandler, of Michigan, Wade, of Ohio, Trumbull, of Illinois, Wilkinson, of Minnesota, are here presenting to the Administration that the popular demand of their constituents, is that Gen. McClellan, or some one else, shall immediately whip the rebels on the south side of the Potomac in a pitched battle, and as near Bull Run as possible, and from thence roll the tide of war steadily southward till it meets the waters of the Gulf.

The Tribune states that one of our correspondents with the great naval expedition, writes from Hampton Roads, Friday evening last that he had just been informed on good authority that the private secretary of Commodore Dupont, the commander of the fleet, had absconded, carrying with him the maps and charts, and even the sealed orders of the fleet. We do not touch for the truth of the report, but only for the fact that the writer is worthy of credence. We hope the report is erroneous.

A scouting party of Union troops went into Fairfax C. H. to-day and learned that the rebels had not been there for many days, but was as far back as Centerville, and not strong even there.

The rebels all along our lines to-day on the Upper Potomac, have not been seen. There is no news to-day from down the river.

The vessels of the fleet are on the watch below Mathias Point above the mouth of Quantico Creek. Our troops on the Maryland side are opposite Aquia Creek and are actively engaged in erecting fortifications.

Gen. Lane captures the Rebels Transportation Train and Escorts.—He Feeds their Wounded and Starving.—Contrabands.—A large quantity of Lead Captured.—No definite News of Price or McCulloch.

CORRESPONDENCE OF ST. LOUIS PAPER.

CAMP MOOREHEAD, 34 MILES SOUTH OF ST. LOUIS, October 28.

Gen. Lane captured the transportation train of the enemy near Butler, in Bates county, and took the escort prisoners, a few days since. Among the latter were Captain Whiting and Lieutenant Vaughn. Lane also reports that he found a large number of sick and wounded rebels at Rose Hill, Johnson county, in a starving condition, to whose wants he administered.

Nine contrabands arrived in camp a day or two ago, sent here by one of Lane's officers. Their case has been investigated, and it is understood that Gen. Fremont will return them to their masters.

Sane also captured a large amount of lead in one of the western counties, and sent it to Fort Scott, Kansas.

There is no definite news of the whereabouts of Price or McCulloch.

100,000 Nations Issued to the Naval Expedition.—Hunters of further Disloyalty.—Rebels Suffering at Yorktown.

Fort Monroe, Oct. 28.—One hundred nations have been distributed among the regiments attached to the great expedition this afternoon, preparatory to their departure. Captains of transports received sealed orders to-day.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

DISPATCHES BY THE WESTERN UNION LINE.

Noon Dispatches.

Important from Washington.

Gen. Scott about to retire on account of Physical Infirmary.—His Unsettled Claims Against the Government.—Jeff. Davis' Maliciousness.—Freemont's Arrest.—Agassiz's Congressmen Again Meeting with Military Matters.—Rumored Betrayal of the Naval Expedition.—No Rebels at Fairfax C. H.—Federalists Fortifying on the Maryland Shore.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Gen. Scott will voluntarily retire from his rank and duties within the next ten days, solely on account of his physical infirmities. The recent act of Congress provided there should be no reduction in his pay, subsistence or allowances, in the event of his withdrawal.

It is well known Gen. Scott has had an unsettled account with the War Department since Mexican war. Secretary Cameron has recently given a careful examination of his claims, now thirty years old.

Jeff. Davis' maliciousness brought him in debt on account of his expenditures and receipts in Mexico, and so far as the Secretary's report could do, it discredited him as a financial agent of the Government.

Mr. Cameron has reported that Gen. Scott was not only entitled to the money he claimed of the Government, but that he saved it millions of dollars, which, by the laws of war he could have pocketed under the settled principles regulating the distribution of prizes and contributions money.

This opportunity of personal advantage Winfield Scott generously directed to the founding of a home for invalid soldiers. One of the monuments long after he is dead, will be the "Soldier's Home," near Washington.

Saturday last, the order of the Commander-in-Chief that Gen. Fremont should surrender his command to the officer next to him, Gen. Hunter, accompanied by a letter of instruction to Gen. Hunter, was sent out by the President to Gen. Curtis, in command at St. Louis.

Senators Chandler, of Michigan, Wade, of Ohio, Trumbull, of Illinois, Wilkinson, of Minnesota, are here presenting to the Administration that the popular demand of their constituents, is that Gen. McClellan, or some one else, shall immediately whip the rebels on the south side of the Potomac in a pitched battle, and as near Bull Run as possible, and from thence roll the tide of war steadily southward till it meets the waters of the Gulf.

The Tribune states that one of our correspondents with the great naval expedition, writes from Hampton Roads, Friday evening last that he had just been informed on good authority that the private secretary of Commodore Dupont, the commander of the fleet, had absconded, carrying with him the maps and charts, and even the sealed orders of the fleet. We do not touch for the truth of the report, but only for the fact that the writer is worthy of credence. We hope the report is erroneous.

A scouting party of Union troops went into Fairfax C. H. to-day and learned that the rebels had not been there for many days, but was as far back as Centerville, and not strong even there.

The rebels all along our lines to-day on the Upper Potomac, have not been seen. There is no news to-day from down the river.

The vessels of the fleet are on the watch below Mathias Point above the mouth of Quantico Creek. Our troops on the Maryland side are opposite Aquia Creek and are actively engaged in erecting fortifications.

Gen. Lane captures the Rebels Transportation Train and Escorts.—He Feeds their Wounded and Starving.—Contrabands.—A large quantity of Lead Captured.—No definite News of Price or McCulloch.

CORRESPONDENCE OF ST. LOUIS PAPER.

CAMP MOOREHEAD, 34 MILES SOUTH OF ST. LOUIS, October 28.

Gen. Lane captured the transportation train of the enemy near Butler, in Bates county, and took the escort prisoners, a few days since. Among the latter were Captain Whiting and Lieutenant Vaughn. Lane also reports that he found a large number of sick and wounded rebels at Rose Hill, Johnson county, in a starving condition, to whose wants he administered.

Nine contrabands arrived in camp a day or two ago, sent here by one of Lane's officers. Their case has been investigated, and it is understood that Gen. Fremont will return them to their masters.

Sane also captured a large amount of lead in one of the western counties, and sent it to Fort Scott, Kansas.

There is no definite news of the whereabouts of Price or McCulloch.

100,000 Nations Issued to the Naval Expedition.—Hunters of further Disloyalty.—Rebels Suffering at Yorktown.

Fort Monroe, Oct. 28.—One hundred nations have been distributed among the regiments attached to the great expedition this afternoon, preparatory to their departure. Captains of transports received sealed orders to-day.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

DISPATCHES BY THE WESTERN UNION LINE.

Noon Dispatches.

Important from Washington.

Gen. Scott about to retire on account of Physical Infirmary.—His Unsettled Claims Against the Government.—Jeff. Davis' Maliciousness.—Freemont's Arrest.—Agassiz's Congressmen Again Meeting with Military Matters.—Rumored Betrayal of the Naval Expedition.—No Rebels at Fairfax C. H.—Federalists Fortifying on the Maryland Shore.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Gen. Scott will voluntarily retire from his rank and duties within the next ten days, solely on account of his physical infirmities. The recent act of Congress provided there should be no reduction in his pay, subsistence or allowances, in the event of his withdrawal.

It is well known Gen. Scott has had an unsettled account with the War Department since Mexican war. Secretary Cameron has recently given a careful examination of his claims, now thirty years old.

Jeff. Davis' maliciousness brought him in debt on account of his expenditures and receipts in Mexico, and so far as the Secretary's report could do, it discredited him as a financial agent of the Government.

Mr. Cameron has reported that Gen. Scott was not only entitled to the money he claimed of the Government, but that he saved it millions of dollars, which, by the laws of war he could have pocketed under the settled principles regulating the distribution of prizes and contributions money.

This opportunity of personal advantage Winfield Scott generously directed to the founding of a home for invalid soldiers. One of the monuments long after he is dead, will be the "Soldier's Home," near Washington.

Saturday last, the order of the Commander-in-Chief that Gen. Fremont should surrender his command to the officer next to him, Gen. Hunter, accompanied by a letter of instruction to Gen. Hunter, was sent out by the President to Gen. Curtis, in command at St. Louis.

Senators Chandler, of Michigan, Wade, of Ohio, Trumbull, of Illinois, Wilkinson, of Minnesota, are here presenting to the Administration that the popular demand of their constituents, is that Gen. McClellan, or some one else, shall immediately whip the rebels on the south side of the Potomac in a pitched battle, and as near Bull Run as possible, and from thence roll the tide of war steadily southward till it meets the waters of the Gulf.

The Tribune states that one of our correspondents with the great naval expedition, writes from Hampton Roads, Friday evening last that he had just been informed on good authority that the private secretary of Commodore Dupont, the commander of the fleet, had absconded, carrying with him the maps and charts, and even the sealed orders of the fleet. We do not touch for the truth of the report, but only for the fact that the writer is worthy of credence. We hope the report is erroneous.

A scouting party of Union troops went into Fairfax C. H. to-day and learned that the rebels had not been there for many days, but was as far back as Centerville, and not strong even there.

The rebels all along our lines to-day on the Upper Potomac, have not been seen. There is no news to-day from down the river.

The vessels of the fleet are on the watch below Mathias Point above the mouth of Quantico Creek. Our troops on the Maryland side are opposite Aquia Creek and are actively engaged in erecting fortifications.

Gen. Lane captures the Rebels Transportation Train and Escorts.—He Feeds their Wounded and Starving.—Contrabands.—A large quantity of Lead Captured.—No definite News of Price or McCulloch.

CORRESPONDENCE OF ST. LOUIS PAPER.

CAMP MOOREHEAD, 34 MILES SOUTH OF ST. LOUIS, October 28.

Gen. Lane captured the transportation train of the enemy near Butler, in Bates county, and took the escort prisoners, a few days since. Among the latter were Captain Whiting and Lieutenant Vaughn. Lane also reports that he found a large number of sick and wounded rebels at Rose Hill, Johnson county, in a starving condition, to whose wants he administered.

Nine contrabands arrived in camp a day or two ago, sent here by one of Lane's officers. Their case has been investigated, and it is understood that Gen. Fremont will return them to their masters.

Sane also captured a large amount of lead in one of the western counties, and sent it to Fort Scott, Kansas.

There is no definite news of the whereabouts of Price or McCulloch.

100,000 Nations Issued to the Naval Expedition.—Hunters of further Disloyalty.—Rebels Suffering at Yorktown.

Fort Monroe, Oct. 28.—One hundred nations have been distributed among the regiments attached to the great expedition this afternoon, preparatory to their departure. Captains of transports received sealed orders to-day.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

DISPATCHES BY THE WESTERN UNION LINE.

Noon Dispatches.

Important from Washington.

Gen. Scott about to retire on account of Physical Infirmary.—His Unsettled Claims Against the Government.—Jeff. Davis' Maliciousness.—Freemont's Arrest.—Agassiz's Congressmen Again Meeting with Military Matters.—Rumored Betrayal of the Naval Expedition.—No Rebels at Fairfax C. H.—Federalists Fortifying on the Maryland Shore.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Gen. Scott will voluntarily retire from his rank and duties within the next ten days, solely on account of his physical infirmities. The recent act of Congress provided there should be no reduction in his pay, subsistence or allowances, in the event of his withdrawal.

It is well known Gen. Scott has had an unsettled account with the War Department since Mexican war. Secretary Cameron has recently given a careful examination of his claims, now thirty years old.

Jeff. Davis' maliciousness brought him in debt on account of his expenditures and receipts in Mexico, and so far as the Secretary's report could do, it discredited him as a financial agent of the Government.

Mr. Cameron has reported that Gen. Scott was not only entitled to the money he claimed of the Government, but that he saved it millions of dollars, which, by the laws of war he could have pocketed under the settled principles regulating the distribution of prizes and contributions money.

This opportunity of personal advantage Winfield Scott generously directed to the founding of a home for invalid soldiers. One of the monuments long after he is dead, will be the "Soldier's Home," near Washington.

Saturday last, the order of the Commander-in-Chief that Gen. Fremont should surrender his command to the officer next to him, Gen. Hunter, accompanied by a letter of instruction to Gen. Hunter, was sent out by the President to Gen. Curtis, in command at St. Louis.

Senators Chandler, of Michigan, Wade, of Ohio, Trumbull, of Illinois, Wilkinson, of Minnesota, are here presenting to the Administration that the popular demand of their constituents, is that Gen. McClellan, or some one else, shall immediately whip the rebels on the south side of the Potomac in a pitched battle, and as near Bull Run as possible, and from thence roll the tide of war steadily southward till it meets the waters of the Gulf.

The Tribune states that one of our correspondents with the great naval expedition, writes from Hampton Roads, Friday evening last that he had just been informed on good authority that the private secretary of Commodore Dupont, the commander of the fleet, had absconded, carrying with him the maps and charts, and even the sealed orders of the fleet. We do not touch for the truth of the report, but only for the fact that the writer is worthy of credence. We hope the report is erroneous.

A scouting party of Union troops went into Fairfax C. H. to-day and learned that the rebels had not been there for many days, but was as far back as Centerville, and not strong even there.

The rebels all along our lines to-day on the Upper Potomac, have not been seen. There is no news to-day from down the river.

The vessels of the fleet are on the watch below Mathias Point above the mouth of Quantico Creek. Our troops on the Maryland side are opposite Aquia Creek and are actively engaged in erecting fortifications.

Gen. Lane captures the Rebels Transportation Train and Escorts.—He Feeds their Wounded and Starving.—Contrabands.—A large quantity of Lead Captured.—No definite News of Price or McCulloch.

CORRESPONDENCE OF ST. LOUIS PAPER.

CAMP MOOREHEAD, 34 MILES SOUTH OF ST. LOUIS, October 28.

Gen. Lane captured the transportation train of the enemy near Butler, in Bates county, and took the escort prisoners, a few days since. Among the latter were Captain Whiting and Lieutenant Vaughn. Lane also reports that he found a large number of sick and wounded rebels at Rose Hill, Johnson county, in a starving condition, to whose wants he administered.

Nine contrabands arrived in camp a day or two ago, sent here by one of Lane's officers. Their case has been investigated, and it is understood that Gen. Fremont will return them to their masters.

Sane also captured a large amount of lead in one of the western counties, and sent it to Fort Scott, Kansas.

There is no definite news of the whereabouts of Price or McCulloch.

100,000 Nations Issued to the Naval Expedition.—Hunters of further Disloyalty.—Rebels Suffering at Yorktown.

Fort Monroe, Oct. 28.—One hundred nations have been distributed among the regiments attached to the great expedition this afternoon, preparatory to their departure. Captains of transports received sealed orders to-day.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

DISPATCHES BY THE WESTERN UNION LINE.

Noon Dispatches.

Important from Washington.

Gen. Scott about to retire on account of Physical Infirmary.—His Unsettled Claims Against the Government.—Jeff. Davis' Maliciousness.—Freemont's Arrest.—Agassiz's Congressmen Again Meeting with Military Matters.—Rumored Betrayal of the Naval Expedition.—No Rebels at Fairfax C. H.—Federalists Fortifying on the Maryland Shore.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Gen. Scott will voluntarily retire from his rank and duties within the next ten days, solely on account of his physical infirmities. The recent act of Congress provided there should be no reduction in his pay, subsistence or allowances, in the event of his withdrawal.

It is well known Gen. Scott has had an unsettled account with the War Department since Mexican war. Secretary Cameron has recently given a careful examination of his claims, now thirty years old.

Jeff. Davis' maliciousness brought him in debt on account of his expenditures and receipts in Mexico, and so far as the Secretary's report could do, it discredited him as a financial agent of the Government.

Mr. Cameron has reported that Gen. Scott was not only entitled to the money he claimed of the Government, but that he saved it millions of dollars, which, by the laws of war he could have pocketed under the settled principles regulating the distribution of prizes and contributions money.

This opportunity of personal advantage Winfield Scott generously directed to the founding of a home for invalid soldiers. One of the monuments long after he is dead, will be the "Soldier's Home," near Washington.

Saturday last, the order of the Commander-in-Chief that Gen. Fremont should surrender his command to the officer next to him, Gen. Hunter, accompanied by a letter of instruction to Gen. Hunter, was sent out by the President to Gen. Curtis, in command at St. Louis.

Senators Chandler, of Michigan, Wade, of Ohio, Trumbull, of Illinois, Wilkinson, of Minnesota, are here presenting to the Administration that the popular demand of their constituents, is that Gen. McClellan, or some one else, shall immediately whip the rebels on the south side of the Potomac in a pitched battle, and as near Bull Run as possible, and from thence roll the tide of war steadily southward till it meets the waters of the Gulf.

The Tribune states that one of our correspondents with the great naval expedition, writes from Hampton Roads, Friday evening last that he had just been informed on good authority that the private secretary of Commodore Dupont, the commander of the fleet, had absconded, carrying with him the maps and charts, and even the sealed orders of the fleet. We do not touch for the truth of the report, but only for the fact that the writer is worthy of credence. We hope the report is erroneous.

A scouting party of Union troops went into Fairfax C. H. to-day and learned that the rebels had not been there for many days, but was as far back as Centerville, and not strong even there.

The rebels all along our lines to-day on the Upper Potomac, have not been seen. There is no news to-day from down the river.

The vessels of the fleet are on the watch below Mathias Point above the mouth of Quantico Creek. Our troops on the Maryland side are opposite Aquia Creek and are actively engaged in erecting fortifications.

Gen. Lane captures the Rebels Transportation Train and Escorts.—He Feeds their Wounded and Starving.—Contrabands.—A large quantity of Lead Captured.—No definite News of Price or McCulloch.

CORRESPONDENCE OF ST. LOUIS PAPER.

CAMP MOOREHEAD, 34 MILES SOUTH OF ST. LOUIS, October 28.

Gen. Lane captured the transportation train of the enemy near Butler, in Bates county, and took the escort prisoners, a few days since. Among the latter were Captain Whiting and Lieutenant Vaughn. Lane also reports that he found a large number of sick and wounded rebels at Rose Hill, Johnson county, in a starving condition, to whose wants he administered.

Nine contrabands arrived in camp a day or two ago, sent here by one of Lane's officers. Their case has been investigated, and it is understood that Gen. Fremont will return them to their masters.

Sane also captured a large amount of lead in one of the western counties, and sent it to Fort Scott, Kansas.

There is no definite news of the whereabouts of Price or McCulloch.

100,000 Nations Issued to the Naval Expedition.—Hunters of further Disloyalty.—Rebels Suffering at Yorktown.

Fort Monroe, Oct. 28.—One hundred nations have been distributed among the regiments attached to the great expedition this afternoon, preparatory to their departure. Captains of transports received sealed orders to-day.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

DISPATCHES BY THE WESTERN UNION LINE.

Noon Dispatches.

Important from Washington.

Gen. Scott about to retire on account of Physical Infirmary.—His Unsettled Claims Against the Government.—Jeff. Davis' Maliciousness.—Freemont's Arrest.—Agassiz's Congressmen Again Meeting with Military Matters.—Rumored Betrayal of the Naval Expedition.—No Rebels at Fairfax C. H.—Federalists Fortifying on the Maryland Shore.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Gen. Scott will voluntarily retire from his rank and duties within the next ten days, solely on account of his physical infirmities. The recent act of Congress provided there should be no reduction in his pay, subsistence or allowances, in the event of his withdrawal.

It is well known Gen. Scott has had an unsettled account with the War Department since Mexican war. Secretary Cameron has recently given a careful examination of his claims, now thirty years old.

Jeff. Davis' maliciousness brought him in debt on account of his expenditures and receipts in Mexico, and so far as the Secretary's report could do, it discredited him as a financial agent of the Government.

Mr. Cameron has reported that Gen. Scott was not only entitled to the money he claimed of the Government, but that he saved it millions of dollars, which, by the laws of war he could have pocketed under the settled principles regulating the distribution of prizes and contributions money.

This opportunity of personal advantage Winfield Scott generously directed to the founding of a home for invalid soldiers. One of the monuments long after he is dead, will be the "Soldier's Home," near Washington.

Saturday last, the order of the Commander-in-Chief that Gen. Fremont should surrender his command to the officer next to him, Gen. Hunter, accompanied by a letter of instruction to Gen. Hunter, was sent out by the President to Gen. Curtis, in command at St. Louis.

Senators Chandler, of Michigan, Wade, of Ohio, Trumbull, of Illinois, Wilkinson, of Minnesota, are here presenting to the Administration that the popular demand of their constituents, is that Gen. McClellan, or some one else, shall immediately whip the rebels on the south side of the Potomac in a pitched battle, and as near Bull Run as possible, and from thence roll the tide of war steadily southward till it meets the waters of the Gulf.

The Tribune states that one of our correspondents with the great naval expedition, writes from Hampton Roads, Friday evening last that he had just been informed on good authority that the private secretary of Commodore Dupont, the commander of the fleet, had absconded, carrying with him the maps and charts, and even the sealed orders of the fleet. We do not touch for the truth of the report, but only for the fact that the